

I am extremely happy with the Wisconsin No Call. The Federal one is weak and not effective. I do not want to hear from anyone I am not directly dealing with today. I don't want to hear one day after I cancel anything. I am sick of telemarketers, using my phone, which I pay for, during my time, interrupting me, especially during meal times. I don't want to be solicited from companies I previously dealt with. The federal government should have no right to over ride a good state law.
